

Becoming a songwriter that serves the church

Brian Doerksen

How are the songs that serve the church's expression of worship written? How do we balance creativity and theological accuracy? Brian will share from his experience in writing and working with other emerging writers about the heart and skills of writing worship songs. Pastorally, he will speak into our calling to lose our 'self-focus' ('He must increase and we must decrease') without losing our soul (our God given unique personality and perspective.) He will also share some of the stories behind some of his songs including his new song "Holy God"
